

BARRY KELLEM

Serbia

Some of us here will remember the terrible war that was fought in Yugoslavia during the 1990s. Thousands died. Barry Kellem is one of our international missionaries who serves in Belgrade, the capital city. We support him and a number of other missionaries there.

The war has left many problems in Yugoslavia to this day. Barry says there is a feeling of hopelessness in the city of Belgrade. Another negative factor is the Serbian Orthodox Church, which teaches many things not supported by the Bible.

But our missionaries think a sort of revival may be on the way in Belgrade. Two new churches have been planted, and there is a growing group of young believers who are committed to reaching their city for Christ.

Today let's pray for Barry and the other missionaries we support as our church gives through the Cooperative Program. Let's ask God to give hope where there is none and spiritual victory that will last longer than the political kind.
