

CHILDHOOD AND FAMILY MINISTRY SUMMIT

Texas

Children hold a very special place in the heart of Jesus. He clearly commanded His followers to let children come freely to Him. However, those who work with these most precious little ones need to be properly equipped to train, nurture, and lead them.

The Childhood and Family Ministry Summit—an annual conference hosted by the Texas Baptists Great Commission Team and funded by the Cooperative Program—does just that. Leaders need to know the characteristics of preschoolers and children, possible safety issues, curriculum, budgeting, as well as strategies for enlisting teachers and connecting with parents. These leaders are the faces and, many times, the first contact of this crucial ministry with the community.

The Childhood and Family Summit explores the how-to's of all areas of children's ministry. At the Summit, experienced ministry workers lead breakout sessions and are able to focus on what really happens while working with children, rather than what the books say should happen. Educated leaders with strong biblical and research-based philosophy and theory lay the foundation for the Summit's success.

Let's pray for the Children and Family Ministry Summit and those who attend—that God would call out and equip these leaders as they train future leaders and serve the families of churches in Texas.
